

81. Secret signal

- ◆ Write up a list of words or phrases on the board in the target language.
- ◆ Ask one child to leave the room and agree with the rest of the class on a secret signal, such as scratching the side of one's nose.
- ◆ Choose a child to perform this signal at any given moment.
- ◆ Bring the first child back into the room and ask the class to say over and over again the first item from the list on the board.
- ◆ Every time the class sees the designated person do the agreed secret signal, they move on to the next word or phrase in the list.
- ◆ The idea of the game is to see if the person who went outside can work out who is doing the secret signal which changes the word each time.
- ◆ Of course, meanwhile, the children are given a lot of opportunity to repeat and practise the words or phrases.
